

ABSTRACT

[0030] Remote resource management of local devices through a remote resource management service provider is described. The remote resource management service provider performs resource management operations on a local device upon an indication that resource management on the local device is necessary to perform a specific service.

10040504-122801